WILL DEBATE ON RELIGIOUS SUBJECT HERE

Rev. F.T. Waite and W.F. Crawford Will be Speakers
In Empire Theatre on Friday Evening at 8 O'clock

As an outcome of the recent address delivered here by W. T. Crawford, of the Bible Students Association, the first debate on religious matters will take place here tomorrow (Friday evening).

Rev. F. T. Waite, pastor of the Baptist church here, attended both lectures given by Mr. Crawford and believing that some of the statements made by that speaker and the conclusions he arrived at are not correct, has made arrangements with Mr. Crawford to have a debate, when both men will give their views on the subject up for discussion. The subject of the debate will be: "Resolved that Christ's Kingdom was established at His first coming." Mr. Waite will take the affirmative and Mr. Crawford the negative.

The debate will be held in the Empire theatre and will commence at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission fee and all are welcome.

Carry Credentials

To Avoid Arrest

Have your own identification card with you? Of course if you are wearing khaki you do not need to worry; but if you are not and you look healthy, you would be well advised to carry your documents with you.

If the reason you are not wearing khaki is that you are over age, when you must have on your position an official statement of the date of your birth signed by two reputable citizens.

If you are not in class one because of marriage, then you might borrow the certificate from your wife and carry it with you. If you do not do this then get a certificate signed by two reputable persons to the effect that you are a benedict and that your wife is living.

If you are an American citizen and therefore not called under the M. S. A. you must carry a certificate signed by two reputable citizens in this effect.

If you have received exemption then you must carry this certificate along with you.

If you are invited to show your papers and do so to do it will be taken as prima facie evidence that you should be in the army and you are liable to summary arrest.

Not much Rejoicing

For Huns at Home

A neutral, who has just returned from Rhineland, has told the London Times correspondent at The Hague, that great endeavors were made to celebrate the German victory and to represent it as a great victory for the Kaiser. There was a good deal more drinking than usual but there was nothing extra to eat for the simple reason that it did not exist. The rejoicing was restricted to those who are over military age, who sit in cafes and discuss the fate of Europe over a pot of beer.

The masses of the people have been very depressed, especially since the new order of lowering the bread ration was announced. At Muhlheim, the whole population has been living on four pounds of bread per head, because there was nothing else to be had—no potatoes, nothing whatever besides bread. The people are so greatly discontented they talked of striking, but were afraid, being greatly intimidated by the military. The information is reliable.

"Germans repeatedly assured me in the manufacturing towns and industrial districts, that boys from 12 to 15 years of age are training to use machine guns for the purpose of suppressing disorders, should they arise. The people, as a whole, would be delighted if the war ended at once."

Presbyterian Concert Was Great Success

The concert given in the Amuse-Du theatre last Thursday evening under the auspices of the members of the Presbyterian church, drew a well filled hall, and, judging from the applause all were well pleased with the program. The different items put on by vocal talent and according to a resolution passed at the conclusion of the program it was one of the best concert given in Redcliff for some time. The different numbers were so arranged as to tend variety to the program. While the quartettes, duets and solos were well received, the choruses and drills by the young girls were exceptionally well done and greatly pleased the audience. In the language of the ladies: "The girls looked like cunning foxes," and the opinion was expressed on all sides that we should have more such numbers for our boys and girls. During the evening the orchestra rendered excellent music which added much to the success of the evening.

Box Springs to Hold Celebration July 1st

At a meeting of the Box Springs U. F. A. held last week it was decided that the association would hold its annual celebration again this year on Dominion Day. The various committees were appointed and we are told that they will start out with the intention of making the day bigger and better than ever before.

Besides the usual athletic and horse racing events it is also the intention to have a dancing pavilion erected in the bluff on the river and the day's program will be brought to a close with an open air dance. Watch for bills for further particulars.

Every Sammie in France to Fight

A report from the American army headquarters for France says: "The American soldiers are considering the part they may play in the battle that is raging to the northwest of their positions. There is no doubt that every available man in France will be thrown into the combat whenever the French high command deems necessary."

Whatever is to be done will not be fought, however, until the Americans are actually engaged; it would be inadvisable to discuss troop movements of any character.

The battle between Romania and Rhenia has drained all activity from the zone in which the main body of the American expeditionary force is now engaged, except for aerial fighting, quiet is reported from all the fronts."

There was a nice shower of rain here last Saturday morning and again during the afternoon. North and west of town there was a regular old time down pour and as a result crops have improved wonderfully already.

In future the banking hours will be from 9.30 a. m. to 2.30 p. m. No doubt this change has been made to allow the bank staffs more time to devote to production and to assist farmers in the surrounding district to seed and harvest their crops.

Albert Kops leaves this week for the other side to enlist in the American army. As a farewell send off a number of his friends met at his home last Monday evening and he left in a joyous and happy mood with a pleasant time was spent.

The executive of the Tennis Club for 1918, Messrs. Perrins, Blair, Reade and Lang, are busy getting the courts in playing shape. A new pavilion is being erected and the high wire fence repaired and straightened up. Weather permitting, the courts should be ready for play a Monday next.

Canadian railroads ask permission of the Interstate Commerce Commission to raise rates on business done on their lines within the United States to the level proposed by Director General McAdoo under the recent rate orders for American railroads.

ENOUGH SUGAR FOR CANNING.
Housekeepers who are anxious about their preserves for next winter take comfort. The food board announces that there will be sufficient sugar in the country for the preserving and canning season and that the maximum fruit and vegetable crops that can be produced in this country will be taken care of, so far as the sugar supply is concerned. To make sure of this, however, strict conservation will be necessary in the meantime.

Tax Sale Here on Monday, June 17th
Everything is now in readiness for the tax sale to be held in Crowe's hall on Monday, June 17th. The sale will commence at 10 o'clock in the morning of that date.

At this sale all property in town on which the taxes have not been paid up to 1916 will be offered for sale by auction. A glance over the list published in the four previous issues of the Review will show that it contains some fine lots both for residential and business purposes. This sale will give you an opportunity of getting such places at reasonable prices. Because of this it is expected that this will be one of the most successful of all the sales. Don't forget the date—Monday, June 17th.

Canada's Draftees Are I hysically Fit

A report from London concerning Canadian draftees says: "The military authorities here are well satisfied with Canada's draftees and the men themselves are highly pleased and are not much apart from the earlier recruits. They have been handled with great consideration by the British government, which allotted them three of the most beautiful sites in southern England for camps. They have been well worked hard and were early made to realize that war is a grim job for slouchers, but no picnic and it is made here for greenness and they are responding splendidly to the sympathetic handling."

An officer after visiting and inspecting these men said: "Physically they are well above the average standard of volunteers, this being due of the severe medical examination in Canada before their departure. Very few doctors have arrived and the weeks estimate the proportion unfit for active to be less than one-half of one per cent against twenty-five per cent of rejections in many other countries."

Their officers tell me 'the new troops are exceedingly keen, willing and obedient. They are amenable to discipline, if anything too amenable, many voluntarily working, studying, drilling after hours in order to qualify as non-coms. They are magnificent war material.'

German Submarines Raid Atlantic Coast
The surprise of the week was the announcement on Monday that German submarines had made their appearance on this side of the Atlantic and had done considerable damage of ships in the North Atlantic. It was reported that 15 vessels had been sunk and many lives lost but later reports indicate that the loss is not so serious. In all 11 vessels were attacked by the subs. Not all of these, however were sunk, although they were all more or less damaged and some made port under their own steam. Seven of the vessels hit were small schooners and in each case the crews were saved. The Steamship Carolina was the largest vessel attacked. She carried 350 passengers but of these 350 were picked up by other boats which happened to be in the rescue. So far it is estimated that only about 60 lives were lost.

QUICK WORK ON SHIPYARD.
At a spot on the northeast coast of England, which was an open field for the construction of ships, there has been constructed in a manner which is a masterpiece of the Times describes as almost magical, a fully equipped shipyard in the space of two weeks.

Ships already have been laid. By the end of November there will be a complete shipyarding yard with berths and a fitting-out basin, capable of completing a ship every two weeks. A force of 2,000 workers, including many women, is employed there.

Rain Yesterday Does Crooks Good

The few hours of quiet steady rain yesterday was just what the doctor ordered and as a result not only the crops but the farmers and merchants as well look greatly improved. Although the grain was not suffering on account of the previous cold weather the rain did millions of dollars worth of good. The weather has now cleared and the hours bright sun yesterday afternoon and today has already made a noticeable difference in the grain.

Farmers of the surrounding district say conditions and prospects at the present time are much better this year than they have been for the past three years at this stage.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Redcliff Review:
Will you permit me the use of your columns to utterly refute a scandalous rumor that is going about this town which is very much to my detriment.

The rumor that I refer to is that I am supposed to have written to one of the boys in the tent and say in my letter that I would not be seen walking with any returned soldier.

This, sir, I brand as a cowardly and untrue statement. I am willing to take oath before anyone that I never have sent such a letter to anybody neither at the front or at home. My own friends in the army have never heard of it and are still doing as such that any word of mine would be futile in describing the admiration I have for the returned soldier.

I can quite understand any prejudice you might have to publishing a notice of this sort but all that I can say, sir, is that you are the only channel by which I can ever hope to dispose of a thing like this, which is the only way to prevent some evil minded scoundrel from doing so.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am, Yours respectfully,
JOSEPH HUTCHES

Breezawn Children Have Pleasant Holiday

The school children of the Breezawn school, together with their parents and friends, took advantage of the holiday on the king's birthday last Monday, and held a most successful picnic on the river bank just south of the school.

The picnicists met at various centres and were conveyed to the picnic grounds by car, and afterwards were willingly placed at their disposal by farmers of the district.

Arriving at the grounds it was found that great preparations had been made for the outing. Barges were in place and the grounds cleared for the carrying on of the various lines of athletic sports. A good program was arranged for the afternoon and both young and old thoroughly enjoyed the outing. Much of the success of the day is due to the efforts of Mrs. Haslam and Mrs. McCormick.

The Red Cross Feeds Refugees

Refugees from the Alsace and Alsace provinces continue to pour into Paris, coming not only by every available train, but even by canal boats and by means of transportation.

The arrival Monday included the entire population of the village of Limy-sur-Oureq, which had spent three weeks isolated with scanty food and scanty necessities.

All the refugees were destitute and hungry. Thousands were met by Red Cross trains loaded with food. As soon as the sufferers had been fed they were taken to temporary shelter at hotels, where they were visited by the minister of the Interior. The Red Cross has also established roadside canteens where refreshment on the way to the front can be obtained and refugees can be fed.

United States May Give Russia Aid

It is understood that the United States government is studying the feasibility of extending economic assistance to Russia. The proposal to assist the Russians in an economic way, was made as a possible solution of the problems now confronting that country. Assistance from the United States would take the form of purchasing and assembling food supplies in Siberia and distributing them in European Russia. It is also proposed to purchase food in Japan for distribution in Russia.

First Call For Men in Ireland

The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland issued a special statement asking for 50,000 volunteers, and thereafter 2,000 to 3,000 monthly to maintain the Irish division.

The first call is to men 18 to 27 years of age, and special inducement is offered of legislation to insure that land shall be available for the men who fight for their country.

U. S. LOAFERS MUST WORK OR ENLIST

Drastic measures were taken by the U. S. government to tighten its hold on men of draft age.

By amended regulations, issued by President Marshall, men over approximately 750,000 men in various lines of occupation throughout the country were given the order to work or enlist.

They must either seek employment in industry by July 1, or render themselves liable for military service, regardless of previous classification or exemption.

The American Red Cross second World War campaign for 1918-1919, with indications that when all reports from the drive of a week ago are tabulated a $70,000,000 new subscription of the $100,000,000 goal will be shown.

Unlimited power to draft men within the limits prescribed by the selective service act was granted Secretary of War Baker by the House Military Affairs committee. The committee adopted an amendment to the military bill authorizing the President to take any number of men in any fiscal year under the law, without draft law, observing the order of classification.

ATTENTION!

In this issue of the Review the Dominion government carries two advertisements. One refers to the documents which must be carried by every male person of military age, the other to the registration of every male and female in Canada over 16 years of age on June 22nd.

It is unnecessary for us to go into details here; they are all outlined in the advertisements referred to. As ignorance of the law is no excuse for anyone we would advise our readers to read the advertisements over carefully, then govern themselves accordingly.

The attention of employers and boarding house proprietors is especially called to the registration, as they are liable to heavy penalties if they employ or board any who have not registered. Then there may be some who think they look old enough or look married enough to pass them without the necessary credentials. To them we say don't take any chances. If you can't produce the documents you are liable to arrest.

SCHOOL FIRST.

Members of the school board have drawn our attention to the fact that a movement is now on foot to get a number of the school children interested in some side lines in connection with the Chautauqua which is to appear here for a week this month. They have also requested that we remind parents that this is a very important period of the school term, as the midsummer examinations are now close at hand.

At any other period of the term we should greatly encourage the children and parents to get interested in this branch of the Chautauqua work but just now the school work should occupy first place with all children as failure now might mean the necessity of another year's schooling.

However, this should not seriously interfere with the Chautauqua program. There are upwards of three hundred children going to school and not all of them would be effected by taking part in that program at attending the concerts. What we would suggest is that parents, before allowing their children to offer their services, should consult the child's teacher and learn for themselves whether or not they can spare the time from school or home study at this time. Then they will know what to do. Otherwise if children are allowed to neglect their school work at this time parents should not blame the teachers if the children do not make a satisfactory showing at the examinations.

ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK.

The reconciliation of the two former presidents of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft, announced as having taken place when the two men clasped hands in the dining room of a Chicago hotel, is regarded by Washington as closing one of the romantic incidents in American history. No more bitter feud ever existed between two public men than between these two who had formerly been as David and Jonathan. As they had loved each other, so they hated, and now they have buried the hatchet.

Those who know both men well, are assured the reconciliation would never have been brought about had it not been for the common cause in which both are now most intensely interested—the cause of America. Temperamentally, the two men are greatly unlike, but they are alike in this that both are 100 per cent American.

The reconciliation of these two living ex-presidents is typical of the spirit that is being awakened by this war. Party feuds, class distinctions and petty differences are being wiped out and all are looking upon the more serious side of life now as never before. This is an encouraging outlook for the future and no doubt will hasten the day when "man to man the world o'er will brothers be."

AN OVERSIGHT.

The Department of Education in the province of Saskatchewan is asking the school teachers of that province to organize the children in their respective schools for the Red Cross.

Last year Saskatchewan schools raised $26,000 for the patriotic fund and $70,000 for the Belgium relief fund, and this year the department is asking for $50,000 from these schools for the Red Cross. It is estimated that if each school raises $25.00 this amount will be just doubled.

This move on the part of our neighboring province is indeed a timely one and one which might well be followed by the department in this province. So far in this war our schools have done very little as a body; although there has been some excellent work done by the children in many individual schools.

This reminds us that of late our own school children here in Redcliff have been doing absolutely nothing for patriotic purposes. National holidays are allowed to pass by unnoticed—although other schools recognize them in a fitting manner—and our children are not encouraged or even given an opportunity of doing their bit or made to feel that they have a place in the great world struggle.

There was a time when our school made substantial monthly contributions to the Red Cross, and by denying themselves their usual candy money in order that it might be placed in the Red Cross box our children were learning lessons in sacrifice. For some reason which has never been satisfactorily explained this was discouraged and since then the donations from that source have faded away almost entirely.

If such a state of affairs existed in a German school it would be attributed to the fact that the boys and teachers were alien enemies. It cannot be said that this is the case here. It must only be a case of careless oversight.

Down in the States it is proposed to confer marks of approval upon men in civil life for extraordinary service in war time just as medals and crosses are awarded to soldiers for acts of bravery. The man, for instance, who makes a record in war work in a factory or on a farm is to have some sign of public approval. This is a movement in the right direction. Much of the work being done at home is just as necessary for the carrying on of the war as joining the army or fighting in the trenches. Therefore the man or the woman who stands out prominently in his or her distribution as a leader or record breaker is just as much entitled to some distinction as the one who performs an heroic deed on the battlefield.

LABOR FOR THE HARVEST.

Mr. J. D. McGregor, director of labor, Canada Food Board, says that the seedling of the west has been managed very well by the co-operation of the men in the towns and cities of the boys enlisted in the Soldiers of the Soil, and by men secured from the United States.

"I have the assurance of the government," said Mr. McGregor, "that measures will be adopted to assure the necessary supply of labor for harvesting the crop. The anti-laboring law has worked wonders and idle foreigners and sports have disappeared from the streets of the west. They are at work on the farm."

Noted Impersonator Presents
"A Bachelor's Romance" Opening Night

A. MATHER HILBURN.

Some of the greatest critics in the country have pronounced "A Bachelor's Romance," which Mather Hilburn is soon to give at Chautauqua, as the crowning effort of this great impersonator. One forgets that he is looking upon a stage setting and that a performer is acting the part of the old bachelor. The scene becomes so real one sees the phantom forms of the old bachelor's sweethearts around the banquet table.

Hilburn appears on the opening night. The charm of his work lies in the simplicity and naturalness of his style. His characters are taken from life and presented in a natural unaffected manner—never overdone or exaggerated.

Canada's Registration

Its Purpose and Application

CANADA faces the gravest crisis in her history. Four years of war have taken from the Dominion a heavy toll in talent and labor, yet despite the shortage of men power, our Allies still depend on Canada to maintain her own fighting forces of full strength and to increase her exports of food and war materials, so vital to them, and to the successful prosecution of the war.

Every ounce by which Canada can increase her food production and every ounce Canada can save in her food consumption is needed for export to the Allies.

Should the war continue for another year, food cards and a rationing system may have to be instituted. It is the duty of Canada to be prepared for whatever situation circumstances may force upon her.

It is quite probable that before the war is won our Government may have to place restrictions upon the occupations in which men and women may engage. In such an event the Government wishes to be in a position to render all possible assistance in keeping our population usefully and profitably employed.

Registration Day, June 22nd

These conditions point to the necessity of Canada knowing the exact capabilities of her men and women at home.

All persons residing in Canada, male or female, British or alien of 16 years and over, will be required to register on June 22nd and truthfully answer the questions set forth upon the registration card.

It is not the Government's intention to conscript labor in any form, but to assist in directing it wisely.

so that every available unit of human energy may be utilized to the best advantage.

The information procured through registration will be used—as an aid to the Military Authorities in procuring the men necessary to maintain "Canada's First Line of Defence"—to mobilize all units of available labor in the Dominion and direct them from less essential to more essential occupations—to select, and intelligently administer a system of food rationing.
